New Construction Products Regulation

The new European Construction Products Regulation (CPR) comes into force on July 1st 2013. The regulation requires that manufacturers prepare a Declaration of Performance (DoP) for products that are CE marked according to a harmonized European standard. It shall also ensure that an importer and distributor ensure that the manufacturer meet its obligations.

What does it means for you?

- In the Declaration of Performance you will find information about the manufacturer, product, its characteristics and intended use, and more – in the same way for all products sold and marketed in the European market.
- A list specifying the products that are affected by the new regulations and its Declaration of Performance will soon be available on our web page www.notifier.se
- DoP requirements applies to products manufactured after July 1st 2013.
